A still life arrangement of various glass vases and flowers on a wooden surface. In the background, a large bouquet of blue and white hydrangeas sits in a tall, clear glass vase. To its left, a small, round glass vase with a scalloped rim contains a single white candle and some dried flowers. In the foreground, a round glass vase holds another bouquet of blue and white hydrangeas. Next to it is a tall, slender glass vase containing a single white daisy flower. To the right of the daisy vase is a tall, cylindrical glass vase filled with sand and containing three lit white candles. The entire scene is set on a wooden surface with some seashells scattered around. A semi-transparent text box is overlaid on the right side of the image.
